

Stars and Galaxies

Code of Ethics

April 5, 2019

All articles published in the Stars and Galaxies journal must be submitted to the editorial board with a letter of intent. If the requirements described in the following sections are not met, withdrawal of the manuscript.

1 Author Qualification

In order to publish an original research paper, all the following conditions must be met.

1. Substantial contribution to either the design of research, the collection of data, the analysis of data, or the interpretation of research results.
2. Writing the manuscript and performing essential corrections / revisions related to the contents of the manuscript.
3. Comprehension and approval of the contents of the submitted manuscript.

[Violation Policy]

If violations are found before the publication of the article, the publication will be delayed until it is properly corrected. If the paper has already been published, a correction notice of the paper will be made on the website. If the editorial committee deems a publication malicious, the dissertation will be withdrawn from the website.

2 Double Submissions

Articles substantially overlapping with articles already published in print media or electronic media are regarded as double submissions. Double submissions to this journal are not permitted. The editorial committee decides whether a publication is a double submission.

[Double Submission Policy]

If the article has not been published, it will be withdrawn immediately. If the article has been published, the website will announce that the article is a double submission, and the article will be withdrawn from the website.